London, February 20.—Lord Beaconsfield said the British government considered that the time had arrived when they should settle forever who should possess the great gates of India. The policy of the government, distinctly and repeatedly declared, had not swerved for a moment. The complete command of the great gates of the Indian empire had been obtained with absolute success. Many things had occurred which the government had not contemplated, but nothing had occurred which for a moment could induce them to modify or change their policy. They had been asked why, if they had completed that policy, they had not withdrawn from Afghanistan? They could not leave the people in a state of comparative anarchy. That, however, was not the condition of the whole of Afghanistan. Parts thereof, and notably the district of Candahar, were in a state of absolute peace and great prosperity. Lord Beaconsfield said, in conclusion, "Let us be firm, resolute and determined; let people know that this country is ready to be just, but that it has resolved to be obeyed, and the difficulties and complications will immediately disappear."

TRIED TO BURN HIS FATHER AND SISTER.

WHRELING, February 20.—About a month ago William Worrell's residence near Claysville, Pennsylvania, was burned down to the ground. The fact that it was an incendiary fire was evident at the time, but other particulars of a startling character have come out recently which makes it an exceedingly revolting occurence. James Worrell, a son of William Worrell, was engaged to be married to a young lady in Washington county; but, as he had not the means to support a wife, he undertook to destroy his father and sister in the flames, so that he could thus come into possession of the property, and thus be enabled to carry out his wishes. Before setting fire to the house, he locked his sister in one room, and tied his father in another room. Fortunately, a servant discovered them before the flames reached them, and with difficulty saved their lives. Young Worrell is twenty-one years of age, and highly educated. The family are highly respected in the community in which they live.

STARVING OUT STAR ROUTES. Postmaster-General Key Makes it Against His Better

Judgment.

WASHINGTON, February 20.—The following is the text of the order issued by the postmaster-general cutting down the mail service on star routes: To the Second Assistant Postmaster-General:

That there may be no deficiency created to maintain the star-service for the present fiscal year, I direct that on and after March, I t proxima, the service on all star routes be reduced to one trip per week, allowing one month's extra pay, as provided by law on service dispensed with.

I also direct that the service placed on the new routes since, and including July 1, 1879, be discontinued, if the foregoing reduction is not sufficient for the purpose indicated. I think the rapid growth of population and business in the Territories and in the new States, and the restoration and improvement of the service in the southern States demand the existing service, and in many instances additional service on the old and new service on recently established routes. I also believe the public service Alli suffer by the reduction, but the law requires that I shall not exceed the appropriation, and I am determined to conform to the law.

> FIVE THOUSAND at the preparation is only in the infancy of its usefulness. The great defect of all Cough Remedies hitherto Introduced is that they are simply expulsory. Hence they are useless; for unless the causes of the acrid secretions which are coughed up are removed, and the ruptured, inflamed or maturated surfaces healed and restored to their natural tone, a cure is impossible. Fritsch's Prussian Cough Syrup accomplishes these objects. The mucus and muco-pus which are the consequence of Lung Disease, are thrown of by it, while at the same time it soothes and invigorates the weakened tissues. "LIFE FOR THE LUNGS."

For coughs, colds, influenza, bronchial difficulties, tightness of the chest, hoarseness, sore throat, trachitis, inflammation of the lungs, difficulty of breathing, pleurisy and all disorders of a pulmonary nature, it has never been equaled.
